

AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE of COMPANY DIRECTORS

Trusted advice for your board

Board advice and benchmarking

A focus on governance

The Australian Institute of Company Directors (AICD) is Australia's leading provider of governance education and development programs, governance assessment services and board advisory services. We are committed to excellence in governance.

As an integral part of the AICD, the 'Advisory' Business Unit focuses on business-to-business relationships, servicing a wide range of clients across Australasia.

Our board advisory/consulting service provides high-end and trusted board advice and benchmarking, focusing on best practice governance and board effectiveness.

We are uniquely positioned to deliver client value through our:

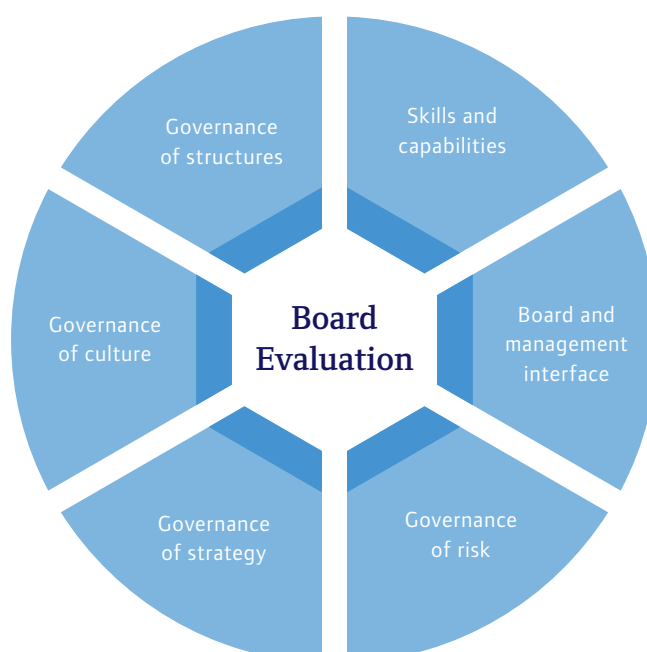

- Independence and commitment to excellence;
- Accredited board advisors who are practicing directors and governance specialists;
- Network of consultants with the skills, capabilities and attributes required for high-impact work; and
- Passion and dedication, providing quality professionalism and advice.

Our research and the underlying empirical evidence strongly suggests that better governance enables superior organisational performance across many dimensions such as innovation, engagement and risk management.

How we can help

Our board advisory practice offers a pragmatic approach to governance improvement. We work with the board to diagnose issues, understand root causes and engage key stakeholders in solution options. We offer practical models and methods for improvement and partner through implementation.

Our key areas of practice include:

A trusted approach

Our professional development and board advice ensures that governance is aligned with the strategic objectives of the business and structured in a way that drives performance outcomes.

Throughout our three-phased approach, we offer professional services and board advice with the objective to enable best-practice governance and board effectiveness.

AICD Board Advisory’s trusted approach – A long term advisor relationship

Our Board Advisory Team will work with you the whole way – from diagnosis, through to planning and implementation. This approach ensures we understand your unique challenges and deliver solutions that are right for you, now and in the future.

“ Our extensive knowledge and expertise uniquely positions us to provide boards with leading edge information and thinking on governance excellence across Australia and internationally.”

Bodo Mann CAICD

Group Executive – Advisory

Australian Institute of Company Directors

Want to find out more or request an initial conversation?

w: companydirectors.com.au/advisory e: advisoryservices@aicd.com.au